Executive Summary

This report sets out the current position with regard to communications relating to potential complaints received up to 22nd February 2021 in relation to the Police and Crime Commissioner.

Recommendation

That the update in relation to communications and complaints be noted.

Background and Advice

Since the commencement of the Panel in 2012 there have now been 88 recorded communications which at the outset were described by the complainants as complaints against the Police & Crime Commissioner, and 86 outcomes have been reported to previous meetings.

Many of these communications as reported previously however did/do not relate directly to the conduct of the PCC and therefore do not, under the terms of the governing regulations come under the jurisdiction of the Police & Crime Panel.

Many communications received focus on the alleged conduct of police officers, conduct of police investigations or that of the chief constable, and these are matters for which there are other complaints processes and/or, appropriate authorities to deal with such matters.

Since the last meeting there has been two further complaints received. The first (87) was again related to the alleged conduct of a police officer or the conduct of individual police investigations for which there are other complaints processes and/or, appropriate authorities to deal with such matters. The second complaint received (88) was found to be related to the actions of an officer from the office of the police and crime commissioner rather than the police and crime commissioner and there are other complaints processes and/or, appropriate authorities to deal with such matters.

There have been no further complaints received up to the 23rd November 2020.
